

OPTIMIZE YOUR RESTAURANTS TAKEOUT

with The Yummy Box

You know how your customers hate fees for the simplest things, like ordering food? There's delivery fees, service fees, priority fees, and monthly subscription fees. All these fees frustrate us all, including local or national restaurant operators. But what if there was a better way? A way where your customers still get what they want, when they want it, minus the extra fees?

We help restaurants boost profitability by making takeout more attractive to their customers and increasing productivity for their staff by automating the takeout process using sustainable smart lockers called The Yummy Box. Think of Amazon Lockers but for food. The Yummy Box is a plug-and-play solution that's way more secure and insulated than those pesky pick-up shelves.

By guaranteeing takeout orders are fresh, secure, and ready when customers arrive—especially during those hectic lunch breaks—takeout just got a lot yummier, and restaurant profits just got juicier with a new takeout experience.

For the first 40 customers, clevtech's CEO Dom Nelson is promising restaurant operators The Yummy Box at the purchasing price without any markup.
